

Team bio:

We are a newly founded robotics team based in Seattle. While all of us have previously belonged to other robotics teams, we thought that the Roboat competition sounded challenging and exciting, so we decided to start our own team. Now, we are a small, but mighty, team. Since this is our first year, we are not focused so much on competing, but on expanding and refining our knowledge of robotics and computer vision.